EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

I apply theoretical and conceptual frameworks from psychology to model or study how people adapt their learning and development strategies in various contexts. I have published or presented over 30 papers, hold 12 certificates in data analysis programming skills, taught 24 distinct graduate and undergraduate courses in face-to-face, virtual, or hybrid modes, received over $20K in grant funds to support undergraduate student research, assisted the assessment and evaluation of three large-scale education grants, served 15 years on institutional and external committees or task forces, and volunteered over 7,500 hours coaching sports. I hold an NSCAA (United Soccer Coaches) Premier Diploma and enjoyed coaching NCAA Division I and III soccer over the course of a decade.
